Painting Yourself Into a Corner With a Tax Brush

Editor The Star: I always find myself being amazed at how people read into an article what they wish to find. I refer to the Grassroots Bulletin and the letter published in the Wednesday issue of the Hope Star.

The letter seemed to infer that the circular was opposed to the teachers. When I read the circular I find nowhere anything that could be interpreted to mean this. All I could determine was that the circular was opposed to paying $100,000 to outsiders to reassess property. I do not know who set this figure, but if it is correct, I feel that the majority of our citizens are opposed to this. I'm sure there are several in our county capable of doing this task even if the Assessor and Equalization Board, as some feel, can or will not give a true unbiased assessment.

I am a former teacher and realize the conditions that exist in the teaching profession.

Mr. Washburn, could you clear up the situation a little? Would these professional appraisers reassess only property in the Hope School District or in the entire county? If it is only the Hope District, then many of us have nothing to say. But if the entire county is involved, we will do all in our power to stop this outrage.

In some of our minds, the memory is still strong of the loss of the Guernsey School into the Hope system. I do not know the cost involved in operating this district, but it may help the overcrowded condition and operational expenses to return those students to their own district. I understand the people of that district want their school back. They lost it while they slept. It could be others will be awakened to find that they too have been the losers.

Editor's Reply

Although the facts about the upcoming re-assessment program have been published several times in this newspaper I rechecked with the Hope School District I-A administrative office this morning. Here are the confirmed facts:

The reassessment program as approved by the local district board covers property assessment in the Hope district alone; however, other districts in the county may join in the program if they desire—and the Washington district has expressed this wish.

Therefore the revaluation for tax purposes will apply in the Hope and Washington districts only.

The letter-writer's figure putting the outside appraisers' cost at $100,000 is something Charles Jones just dreamed up out of his hat. The correct figures have already been published.

A reappraisal of the Hope district alone will cost approximately $37,000. The cost for the entire county would be about $78,000.

These figures have already been published. Why Charles Jones chose to disregard them and use the fictitious $100,000 sum is clear enough. He's a hostile witness, as the lawyers say—and so he resorts to the oldest of political tricks: Invent your own figures. He must wear a very large hat.

He asked me—and so I've told him.

I've been telling it for nearly 50 years. Eventually Arkansas is going to enact a 100 per cent assessment and cut the millage rate so that the tax dollars come out even. That was an idea I helped shape up for the late Gov. Francis Cherry. But he had to abandon it before the united threat of the State Association of County Tax Assessors. Recently Florida has enacted a 100 per cent assessment measure, and the initial tax bills are unchanged. The only way they can be changed is for the people to vote increased millage on the new high assessment level. That will be harder to do than it was when voluntary assessing made millage inflation quite easy.

This is where Arkansas stands

Court to Take Up Private Club Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to consider whether private social clubs that have liquor licenses can continue to exclude Negroes.

The court accepted for review an appeal by a Moose Lodge in Harrisburg, Pa., whose racially exclusive policy was ruled illegal in November by a three-judge federal court.

If the high court upholds the ruling the decision could upset the racial policies of private clubs across the land.

The Harrisburg lodge's rule against Negro members or guests was tested three years ago. A white member brought a Negro, K. Leroy Irviss, the Democratic leader of the Pennsylvania house, to the club for dinner and drinks.

Irviss was refused service.

Irviss, a Pittsburgh Democrat, sued, leading to the ruling by the District Court in Harrisburg in November that the lodge could not keep both its Pennsylvania liquor license and its racially exclusive policy.

Banks Tied to Penn Central Dumped Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Banking Committee staff report says banks with ties to the Penn Central Railroad sold big blocks of its stock last year before the general public knew how critical the company's financial condition was.

The report to the committee compares the sales when blocks of Penn Central stock, including stock held by bank trust departments, were sold with the dates of "significant nonpublic events" that occurred as the railroad slipped toward reorganization.

The report said eight of nine banking organizations studied significantly reduced their Penn Central holdings while the ninth bank increased its holdings slightly.

It said the nonpublic events referred to included various meetings at which Penn Central officials tried to obtain financing, especially a director's meeting May 27, 1970, during which directors were told plans for selling debentures had fallen through and the company was forced to seek government help.

Under Plan Interior Dept. Would Handle Nation's Resources

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's proposed federal reorganization would, if adopted, convert the Interior Department from an agency traditionally rooted in Western land to a manager of the nation's vital resources.

Land, water, minerals and fuels, the sciences of ocean, atmosphere and earth: All would become the responsibility of the proposed Department of Natural Resources.

The Interior Department already has a hand in these areas but it would, in the reorganization, annex huge areas now governed by other agencies, giving Interior truly national scope and authority for the first time in its 125-year history.

Today: We have no firm basis for assessments, millage in some districts is 60 or more—and still fails to bring in adequate public school money.

We are in the unhappy position of the housewife redoing the kitchen floor—and finally discovering she has painted herself into a corner.

Foreign Nations Want to Take Over SST That U.S. Congress Killed

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "On Tuesday, the U.S. will be out of the SST business. That's the day the money runs out."

The speaker is William M. Magruder, director of the office of supersonic transport development for the Department of Transportation.

The SST development package was killed by Congress last week when the Senate followed earlier House action and rejected $134 million in subsidies. That put the federal government out of the SST picture. There may be private financing of the program but, Magruder says, talks so far "have not been very encouraging."

Even though his office won't be working on SST development, it will operate, for awhile. Closing out the program may take up to two years. "No one has ever terminated a $1 billion unfinished business before," Magruder said.

Ending the federal role may include helping sell the American SST development plan to a foreign bidder.

Sunday, Magruder said inquiries have been received from Japan, West Germany and the Middle East. He identified only the Japanese firm, Ataka, a small trading company which has requested the State Department set up a trade mission visit on the matter.

Last week, Magruder was not too optimistic about a foreign reprieve for the development package.

His main concern now, he said, is with the people whose jobs went out with the congressional defeat.

General Electric and Boeing Co. had the contracts, awarded in 1966, to build a pair of 1,800-mile-an-hour prototypes. Layoffs were forecast for each, as well as for subcontractors.

A proposal from Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., would place the estimated 7,000 Seattle area employees of Boeing who are destined to lose their jobs in a program to build low-cost mass transit.

Speaking on the WABC radio program "Attention New York," McGovern said, "I think we have a real responsibility to those aircraft and aerospace workers who will be thrown out of work."

B.G. Vierling, an aide to Magruder, estimated the cost to the government of terminating the SST development will be at least $334 million. Subsidies for nearly a decade had cost the federal government $864 million.

The federal government now owes refunds of $52 million to Boeing and $33 million to General Electric under a cost-sharing agreement.

An additional $156 million must be appropriated to cover money spent during the current fiscal year.

Eleven U.S. airlines, 14 foreign airlines and an American holding company made deposits of $200,000 a plane to reserve delivery positions for 112 SSTs. This money, which has been in the U.S. Treasury bearing no interest, must be returned to the carriers—all $22.4 million of it.

Way Sought to Speed Calley Jury

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The judge in Lt. William Calley's My Lai murder trial is asking opposing lawyers today what to do about the jury that is delaying a verdict far beyond anything known before.

As the deliberations went into the 13th day, there was court-house speculation that the jury may be undecided about how many deaths should be attributed to Calley.

"I recognize the danger of giving them further instructions," Judge Reid Kennedy said.

He instructed the military prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey Daniel, and defense attorney George Latimer to cite any previous cases where a judge injected himself in a jury's discussions.

"I've looked up the law and can find only two cases," where the judge prodded the jury, Col. Kennedy said, "but both were in the sentencing phase, not in the verdict deliberations. I hope Daniel and Latimer can find some others."

Calley is accused of premeditated murder of 102 unresisting Vietnamese civilians during an infantry assault on My Lai three years ago.

The six-officer jury has had the case since March 16—the third anniversary of the assault—but has spent more than 16 hours in the courtroom rehearing the testimony of 20 of the five-score witnesses in the trial.

The jury has the option of convicting Calley while at the same time reducing the number of deaths charged. Even the finding of a single death attributable to the 27-year-old lieutenant could result in a verdict of premeditated murder or the lesser offenses of unpremeditated murder or voluntary manslaughter.

Unlike a civilian murder jury where a unanimous verdict is required for conviction, there is no hung jury in the military. If two-thirds of a court-martial panel—four members in the Calley case—vote to convict, a guilty verdict is reached. If three are for acquittal, the finding automatically is innocent, and rebalancing is possible only with the consent of four members.

The two mass murder counts against Calley alleged that he killed at least 70 at a drainage ditch edge of the village.

But Kennedy, pointing to the complex issues and massive testimony in the four months of trial, said he was inclined to be patient with the jury.

He said there will be criticism no matter what the verdict.

"They're damned if they do and damned if they don't," the judge said.

Passenger Service in State to End

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Lines announced Sunday that the last two passenger trains that run through Arkansas will be discontinued May 1.

Missouri Pacific presently runs a northbound and southbound train daily between St. Louis and Texarkana with stops at Corning, Newport, Hoxie and Little Rock.

Harry Hammer of St. Louis, a MoPac official, said the trains would be discontinued under provisions of the National Railway Passenger Act (Railpax). Hammer said the railroad had not yet joined Railpax, but he was sure it would.

Under provisions of Railpax, railroads that join the system may discontinue passenger service on routes not outlined by Railpax. There are no routes through Arkansas under Railpax.

Hammer said the decision to discontinue passenger service in Arkansas would "undoubtedly" result in layoffs of train crewmen, but added, labor arrangements had not been worked out.

Says Bumpers Let Down Educators

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said Saturday that Gov. Dale Bumpers was responsible for the AEA not obtaining its proposed $30 million for education.

He said the failure of the legislature to meet the goal was "directly attributable to the refusal of the governor to ask for the amount of money required to meet the needs of education."

Rozzell made the comment Saturday while speaking to local association presidents meeting here.

Three Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Associated Press count showed that three persons died in traffic accidents in Arkansas during the past weekend. All died in separate accidents.

The AP count of traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Sunday at midnight.

The victims were: —Harry Davis, 61, of DeWitt; killed Saturday in a one-car accident on Arkansas 1 near St. Charles Ferry (Arkansas County).

—Houston W. Sparkman, 35, of Fort Smith; killed Sunday in a one-car accident at Fort Smith.

—Sharon Wilkinson, 9, of near Sheridan; killed Friday night in a two-car accident near Pine Bluff.

Little Rock Leader in Crime Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary crime statistics released today by the FBI showed that crime in Little Rock increased in every major area except one in 1970.

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter showed the largest increase with 81 per cent. The only area where crime was down was robberies. The number decreased from 314 in 1969 to 300 in 1970.

National figures indicated that crime in all categories increased 11 per cent.

Enemy Sappers Attack U.S. Jungle Base, 33 Americans Are Killed

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese sappers ran through a U.S. artillery base in the jungle south of Da Nang early Sunday, killing 33 Americans and wounding 76 within an hour. It was believed to be the highest American death toll of the war in an attack on a U.S. installation.

The U.S. Command reported 12 of the sappers were killed, some of them inside the base and some by helicopter and C119 gunships.

Much of the base was overrun, but it remained in American control today. "Extensive action is being conducted in the area," the U.S. Command said.

There was a general stepup in enemy action, much of it in the Da Nang region. U.S. officers said the North Vietnamese

Thinks China Will Step Up Arms to Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect China will step up its weapons deliveries to Hanoi this year in view of North Vietnam's losses from allied strikes at her Laos and Cambodia supply areas.

The officials do not anticipate Peking will include troops in its expanded military aid, since the fighting is well away from the Chinese border and North Vietnam has shown no shortage of manpower.

Chinese arms assistance to North Vietnam last year is estimated to have totaled some $85 million, roughly a tenth of Hanoi's overall military and economic help from Communist countries.

The comparable 1968 and 1969 figures are estimated at about $100 million. Last October Peking announced a renewed aid agreement with Hanoi, giving no figures, and early this month it issued a tough-sounding communique following Premier Chou En-lai's visit to Hanoi accompanied by Chinese military men.

20 Missing From Tanker, 11 Rescued

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — At least 20 men were missing today from the tanker Texaco Oklahoma, which broke in two in heavy seas about 120 miles northeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C. Eleven crewmen were rescued from a life raft.

Most of the men were from the Port Arthur, Tex., area. The tanker was loaded with 220,000 barrels of oil.

The Coast Guard said it was a mystery why nearly two-thirds of the crewmen apparently didn't escape the sinking ship early Saturday.

It was 36 hours after the 661-foot vessel broke in two in 15-foot seas and winds of 40 to 60 knots before the Coast Guard learned of the tragedy.

The word came in the form of two messages from the Liberian freighter Sasstown saying it had picked up 11 survivors in a life raft.

Both messages, the Coast Guard said, reported 20 crewmen missing—last seen by the survivors as they abandoned the stern section of the 20,000-ton tanker about 5:30 a.m. Sunday.

A Texaco spokesman in Port Arthur, said however that records showed 42 crewmen aboard.

The Sasstown, en route to New York, sighted the life raft about 4 p.m. Sunday.

The Coast Guard had difficulty learning details of what happened, but a spokesman said one message from the Sasstown quoted the survivors as saying the stern section they abandoned sank half an hour afterward.

They were reported to have said the other crewmen were scattered throughout the rest of the ship, which they saw for the last time at midnight, 18½ hours after they launched the raft. They did not see the rest of the ship sink, nor did they see any other rafts, the Coast Guard said.

By the time the Coast Guard got a plane into the air late Sunday, all it found was a huge oil slick. The pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Patrick H. Cannon, said the Sasstown by then was 145 miles east of Elizabeth City, N.C., in seas running 8 to 10 feet.

The Texaco Oklahoma was en route from Port Arthur to Boston with a cargo of 220,000 barrels of sulphur fuel oil, the Coast Guard said. Most of the crewmen, a Texaco spokesman said, were from the Port Arthur area.

Warns Middle Weather East Talks Now Critical

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With President Anwar Sadat warning that the next few days will be "decisive in our battle for destiny," Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad and a score of his top diplomats gathered in Paris today for a meeting their government hopes will generate new pressure on Israel.

En route to the meeting, Riad stopped off in Italy for talks with President Tito of Yugoslavia, Italian Premier Emilio Colombo and Foreign Minister Aldo Moro. Today Riad was meeting with French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann.

Raid begins a three-day session on Tuesday with 21 of his diplomats stationed in Europe and America, including U.N. Ambassador Mohammed Hassan el-Zayyat and Ashraf Ghorbal, Egypt's representative in Washington.

Egyptian sources said conference would map a vigorous campaign to demonstrate to the West that the current no-peace, no-war situation is extremely dangerous and that Egypt already is on a genuine war footing.

Speaking to newsmen on his arrival from Rome, Riad praised the French government for its "just appreciation of the situation in the Middle East."

President Sadat told a rally in Khartoum Sunday that Egypt had done all it could to achieve peace in the Middle East. The official Middle East News Agency's report of his speech did not elaborate on his remark that the next few days would be decisive for the Arabs, but he was warned before that the unofficial truce along the Suez Canal cannot last unless there is progress in the peace talks.

Linking the Israeli stand with U.S. support for Israel, Sadat said: "It's amazing for us to see that the United States, which supplies Israel with Phantom jets, is exposed to tremendous pressure from Israel whereas it should be the other way around."

The Egyptian leader said the two cardinal points of his country's position are recovery of "every inch" of Arab land and the restoration of the rights of the Palestinian people.

Sadat also took note of the fighting in northern Jordan Friday in which at least 18 persons were killed. The Egyptian president warned there would be grave "Arab punishment against those" who try to eliminate the guerrillas.

Libyan strongman Muammar Kadafi, addressing a crowd in Tripoli, called upon the guerrillas to overthrow Jordan's government and said: "If we were on the Jordanian frontier, we would have participated in a war against King Hussein."

New fighting broke out Sunday in Jordan's capital, man, en students marched to protest the fighting between the army and the guerrillas. Army patrols tried to stop the demonstration and firing broke out.

Patman, D-Tex., in a letter transmitting the report to his committee, directed attention to sales of 436,000 shares by Chase Manhattan Bank of New York; 391,575 by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York, and 590,000 by an interrelated group, Allegheny Corp., New York and two mutual funds affiliated with it, Investors Mutual Inc., and Investors Diversified Services.

The report also said 332,550 shares were sold by Continental Illinois National Bank of Chicago, and smaller amounts by Provident National Bank of Philadelphia and Security Pacific National Bank of Los Angeles.

The report said Chase Manhattan and Morgan Guaranty had connections with Penn Central directors while Continental Illinois had "more than $23 million of the outstanding debt of the railroad and was a member of the bank steering committee which participated in critical meetings with Penn Central directors."

Chase Manhattan denied Sunday that any sales of Penn Central stock held by its clients were based on inside information.

Patman said the report would be transmitted to the appropriate federal and state agencies.

Little Change Seen in Draft Issue

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-year draft extension clearing the way for President Nixon's "zero draft" volunteer Army heads for a House vote this week with little revision likely.

Draft opponents plan floor efforts to free draftees from serving in Indochina, give Congress a chance to cut off the draft next year if the war has not wound down, and a host of other revisions.

But the only ones they say privately might win are amendments to restore draft deferments for divinity students and preserve existing deferments for other students.

One reason for their pessimism is the near tripling by the House Armed Service Committee of the President's pay boost incentives for attracting volunteers—from $987 million to $2.7 billion. This has blunted House opposition to the draft.

The committee's bill also would authorize the President to abolish student deferments as of last April 23 and increase nonmilitary conscientious objector service from two to three years.

The House vote is planned Wednesday or Thursday. If passed, as expected, the bill goes to the Senate where its fate is uncertain.

The draft opponent's strategy is to try first to abolish the entire Selective Service System. This failing, they will propose keeping the system intact but halting drafts when the present law expires next June 30.

If there is no success after that next in the strategy is an amendment to extend the draft one year instead of two.

Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., one of the House' leading Vietnam war opponents, has an amendment against requiring draftees to serve in Indochina after the end of the year.

None is expected to succeed. Surprisingly, opposition organizers say there are no proposals to grant conscientious objector status simply on a young man's opposition to the Indochina war.

Sunny Skies in Store for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunny skies have replaced showers and thunderstorms in the Arkansas weather picture.

A few showers were forecast in the southeast portion of the state this morning but fair skies were predicted by this afternoon. The clear skies are expected to continue through Tuesday.

The long-range forecast says no precipitation is expected in the state until at least Thursday.

A cold front moved into the state Sunday, touching off shower and thunderstorm activity. Thunderstorm activity was heaviest in Southern Arkansas and a tornado watch was issued for Union, Ashley and Chicot counties. However, the watch expired at midnight without any tornadoes sighted.

Late Sunday night a severe thunderstorm watch was issued for portions of Southern Arkansas. No damage was reported, but small hail and wind gusts up to 48 miles an hour were reported at El Dorado. The watch expired early today.

Temperatures Sunday ranged from 55 at Harrison to 79 at Texarkana. Highs today were forecast in the mid 60s with highs Tuesday predicted in the mid and upper 60s.

Paragould Jail Escapee Recaptured

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) —

Paul E. Flowers, 34, formerly of Paragould, was captured Saturday after escaping from the Greene County Jail in Paragould last November.

Flowers, who is being held in the Craighead County Jail, was captured after he and his family were in an automobile accident on a county road near Paragould.

Police said Mrs. Shirley Flowers, 23, gave police a fictitious name but was recognized by a policeman at a Jonesboro hospital.

Officials said Flowers was apparently injured in the same accident, but fled the scene.

He escaped by sawing his way through the bars at the jail in Paragould. He is also wanted for escaping from the Michigan State Penitentiary in Lansing in early 1970.

and Viet Cong were taking advantage of the dark of the moon—"there is always higher enemy activity about this time because it's easier for the enemy to get into position without being detected," one officer said.

Viet Cong sappers raided a resettlement village 25 miles south of Da Nang early today, killing 13 South Vietnamese, wounding 21 and burning 100 houses. Twenty-five 100-pound rockets hit the Da Nang Air base and the nearby Marble Mountain air facility, damaging a few planes and helicopters and wounding several Americans. Enemy gunners also shelled the headquarters of the U.S. American Division at Chu Lai, south of Da Nang, but no casualties or damage was reported.

The attack on the artillery base 50 miles south of Da Nang began about 2 a.m. with a barrage of 50 to 60 mortar rounds that pinned down the less than 400 American defending the base.

"They put in some mortar rounds and our people took cover," said one American field officer. "There were sappers going through the place throwing satchel charges into our bunkers and firing positions. The sappers swept across the base and dropped the charges as they went across. They did most of the damage."

"We had no intelligence the attack was going to take place," one American field commander said.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. today in the Atkins High School auditorium.

Democratic Governors Get New Role

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Democratic governors seeking political muscle to match their state-house majority, have been offered a new role in fashioning a party program in Congress.

They also have been assigned a representative—as yet unchosen—to serve and speak for governors at Democratic headquarters.

"Every governor walked away feeling a little stronger and more hopeful about the future of the Democratic party," said Frank Licht of Rhode Island after a two-day caucus of 15 Democrats.

In a three-hour session Sunday, Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien offered the governors most of what they wanted almost before they could ask.

"On substantive matters we wanted to have the opportunity to be heard," said Licht, who was assigned to outline the governors' requests to O'Brien. "On political matters we want to be consulted and we want to have something to say about the structure of the party."

He said O'Brien agreed on both points.

O'Brien said a delegation of governors will meet in Washington April 22nd with representative and congressional leaders.

In addition, O'Brien agreed to the assignment of a man selected by the governors to be their regular representative at the Democratic National Committee.

Gov. Robert W. Scott of North Carolina said among the Democrats suggested for the post were former Gov. Robert McNair of South Carolina, Philip Hoff of Vermont and Hewlett C. Smith of West Virginia.

GEORGE W. SMITH

George W. Smith, 84, a resident of Gurdon, died Monday in a local hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Smith; two sons, Gordon Smith of Hope and Kermit Smith of Texarkana; two sisters, Mrs. Susan Butler of Searcy and Mrs. Grace L. Smith of Burlington, Colo.

Services will be announced by Horne Funeral Home of Gurdon.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sherman Mills Fairchild, 74, a pioneer in photography and aviation, died Sunday. Holder of more than 30 patents, Fairchild founded the Fairchild-Hiller Corp., a major aviation manufacturer and satellite designer. Fairchild was the son of one of the founders of International Business Machines Corp.

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles V. Metz, 50, president of the American Society of Divorced Men, Inc., died Friday at 50. His death, after a short illness, was made public Sunday. Metz was active in attempts to change divorce laws which he contended were not fair to men.

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Gen. Joseph B. Fraser, 75, chairman of the board of Sea Pines Co., died Sunday after an extended illness. Fraser served first in the Army then the Georgia National Guard in both World Wars and Korea.

Aged Man Dies in Grass Fire

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — Melvin Colvin, about 91, died Saturday after his clothing caught fire as he was burning off some land at his home, 12 miles south of here.

Bradley County officials said he was alone at the time of the accident.

Will Rule on Convicts, Gun Possession

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court agreed today to consider a government contention that no one convicted of a serious crime may ever legally possess a gun.

The court will hear next fall a government appeal from a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York overturning the conviction of a Bronx man tried under the 1968 gun control law.

Denneth Bass, who was convicted as a previously convicted felon on two counts of possessing firearms and given concurrent 15-month prison terms, appealed on the grounds that the law applied only to interstate movement of guns.

Bass was turned down by a U.S. district court but won in the Circuit Court. The government, which has used the section some 150 times, contends the lower courts have split on its meaning and therefore a Supreme Court interpretation is needed.

The government is asking an interpretation that anyone convicted of a felony commits a crime any time he has a gun.

Bass won a reversal of his conviction on a contention that the government did not prove that his possession of firearms was in interstate commerce or affecting interstate commerce.

School Editor Wins Award

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Miss Deborah Myers, editor of Little Rock Central's newspaper has been cited for writing the nation's top student editorial.

She was named by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

She wrote her editorial urging students to write their legislators in support of lowering the state's voting age to 18.

A senior, she is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Myers of Little Rock.

Old Inn Hit by Fire, 3 Dead, 7 Missing

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP) — An intense fire, with flames that could be seen for miles, raced through the 117-year-old Canandaigua Inn early today leaving at least three persons dead, seven missing and sending 14 persons to hospitals.

Firemen searching the smoldering rubble found two charred bodies buried in the wreckage. A third man died of a heart attack after fleeing the burning hotel in the early morning hours.

Stanley Rypka, a former patient at a Veterans Administration Hospital here, collapsed at the scene and died at the hospital.

Marijuana Charges Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three persons were charged with possession of marijuana in a raid on a Little Rock apartment Friday night.

Charged were William O. Berry III, 23, James W. Lowden, 21, and Jim Henry James, 22, of Little Rock. James was also charged with selling marijuana.

Man Charged in Fatal Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police have charged Richard Lake, 77, of Little Rock with fatally shooting one person and wounding another at a Little Rock apartment Saturday.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Anna Mae Brown, 50, of Little Rock. Police said Sam Harris, 87, was injured in the incident.

Water Project Meet at Magnolia

Magnolia, Ark.—More than 500 persons from southwest Arkansas and northeast Louisiana are expected at the public meeting to be held at the Magnolia Junior High Auditorium on Tuesday, March 30, at 7 p.m. to hear Col. Herbert Haar Jr., district engineer of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, New Orleans District, discuss the proposed dam on Dorcheat Bayou.

Widespread interest in the proposed dam has developed among the various communities in the two-states area, Mack Anderson, chairman of the Magnolia-Columbia County Chamber of Commerce long-range resources committee, said.

Because of the importance of developing a long-range water supply for municipal, industrial and recreational use in the Arkansas-Louisiana area, we are extending an invitation to any one interested in this project to attend the meeting with the U.S. Corps of Engineers," Anderson added.

Two sites are being considered by the Corps of Engineers for the proposed dam on Dorcheat Bayou, one near Magnolia and one near Springhill, Anderson stated.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Magnolia-Columbia County Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Scott McMahan, president.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

POLLUTION, RELIGION GET BIGGEST RESPONSE

I'm always intrigued by your columns that name the most popular letters, discussionwise. And I'm amused to note that sex is never at the head of the list. (Note From H: Perhaps my readers agree with me that written sex is like steak: Great when a little rare, but if overdone, it becomes unpalatable.)

So what are the big issues this season?—Mike Dear Mike:

Would you believe: religion; . . . with pollution a runner-up. The teen-ager who asked whether she was wrong to seek God on a hilltop because she couldn't find Him in church received hundreds of answers, as did "Long Time Member" who deplored unconventional dress at Sunday services.

Happily (and amazingly) not one writer disagreed with my answers! Samples: Dear Helen:

I was touched at reading the letter from "Searching" as I too am a teen-ager who is searching for real religion. Kids today seek something in God they don't find in the world—and when they look in church, they often don't find it there either.

We'd go to church if we could find love and people who really care about us and aren't ashamed to say they believe. I'm sure there are such churches, but until I find one, I'll keep on—PRAYING ON MY HILLTOP

Dear Helen: "Searching" would search no longer if she visited our church. . . . (These from all over the country, predictably from fundamentalist "back to the Bible" denominations.

Dear Helen: I and a lot of others won't go to church because these are too many "worshippers" like "Long Time Member" who look at the clothes or how much you put in the collection and crowd God out.

Pants suits (girls), head bands, even slacks and sandals, what's the difference: you come to church to get away from worldly things, not for a fashion show. As you said, Helen, "Jesus never won an award for best-dressed man." The Lord can see through any facade. That goes for long hair too. — B and B

Dear Helen: That poor fellow who pretended to put money in the church collection bag: Maybe he's broke or has doctor bills. Maybe he needs sympathy, not a neighbor's censure. Many times I haven't gone to church when I truly needed the reassurance it gives because I didn't have a dollar for the plate, and I knew someone would give me a meaningful stare. — PAT

Second most burning issue was pollution. Rebuttals to Mrs. H.S. of Texas are still pouring in. Mainly they suggest that the American people get off their duffs and stop expecting the government to overrule us with laws. As in: Dear Helen:

I read with considerable disquietude the letter from Mrs. H.S. concerning the need for government to lead in the fight against pollution. Do we really want to go to another system of government? This is what rigid controls on manufacturers would mean. Even if we did, wouldn't private industry still search for new ingredients to do the job of the prohibited ones? Who would pay for all this policing and the many investigations?

I agree that packaging has gotten out of hand in this country. But with enough private outcry, companies will soon be advertising "ecology wrapping," just as the soft drink people are now pushing their glass recycle process, and can companies their used can collections.

To me, the example of several private institutions loudest in the support of saving the environment is interesting. Their literature (including magazines) is often beautifully printed on coated paper. In both manufacture and disposal, such paper and ink are among the most dangerous of pollutants, I'm told. Are we willing to have the government deprive us of the pleasure of slick paper publications?

I am afraid Pogo was right, "We have met the enemy and it is us." We aren't children who must have "No-No's" removed from our reach. We're adults who can make our own decisions—and by our boycotts, force voluntary standards on manufacturers and the public. Let's grow up!—G.E.S.

Wants Public to Make Known Opinions

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, president of Freedom Inc. and Unified Concerned Citizens, urged patrons of the Watson Chapel School District to continue raising their voices in favor of the neighborhood school concept.

Young spoke Sunday to about 400 persons who attended a rally here to honor patrons of the Watson Chapel District who protested the recent court-ordered desegregation of the district.

Young also told the group he would ask Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., for an opportunity to appear before the House Ways and Means Committee to voice his opinion on what he said was a federal takeover of local public school systems.

Tony Awards Presented on Television

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway has bestowed its 1971 Tony Awards upon "Company" as the best musical and "Sleuth" as the best play.

Top individual acting trophies were won by Maureen Stapleton and Brian Bedford for drama, Helen Gallagher and Hal Linden in the song-and-dance department.

The 25th anniversary presentations of the silver medallions for "distinguished achievement" were made Sunday night during a two-hour-plus telecast from the Palace Theater over the ABC network during which a stellar galaxy reprised hit songs from past musical champions.

There weren't any real surprises among the winners—voted upon by about 450 representatives of stage guilds, craft unions and the press. But the loudest ovations greeted the awards to three veteran actresses, Miss Stapleton, Miss Gallagher and Patsy Kelly.

Miss Stapleton, honored for her portrayal in the "Gingerbread Lady," won a Tony previously in 1951. Miss Gallagher, of "No, No, Nanette," also got a Tony for supporting work back in 1952.

For Miss Kelly, taking the supporting musical actress award for "No, No, Nanette," there was special sentimental significance, for it was at the Palace when she was 12 that she made her New York debut in a vaudeville chorus.

As her name was announced, the rubber-faced comedienne looked momentarily stunned, tripped as she mounted the red-carpeted steps to the stage and after the traditional thanking of everybody quipped: "Now I'm going home and faint."

In addition to the award as best musical, "Company" scooped up five other Tonys; for best book, by George Furth; best music and lyrics (separate citations), Stephen Sondheim; scenic design, Boris Aronson; and Hal Prince, the director-producer. The show, which opened April 24 after the "Tony voting" deadline, previously was named the best musical of 1970 by the New York Drama Critics Circle.

Four prizes were picked up by "No, No, Nanette." Besides the pair for distaff performances, Donald Saddler was named for best choreography, and Raoul Pene du Bois for costumes.

The Tony Award to Linden was the second to "The Rothschilds," as Keene Curtis took the award for supporting actor in a musical.

Bedford, starring in "The School for Wives," was one of three English winners. The others were "Sleuth," written by Anthony Shaffer; and Peter Brook, best director for "A Midsummer Night's Dream," performed by members of the Royal Shakespeare Company.

The other competitive awards were won by Paul Sand, dramatic supporting actor; and R. H. Pindexter, lighting design, both for "Story Theater"; and by Rae Allen, supportir dramatic actress in "Ani Miss Reardon Drinks a Little."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stage people showed the movie folk and the television industry how to put an awards show on television. The Tony awards for the season's outstanding Broadway work took over ABC's two-hour movie time and then some on Sunday night.

It was, for the television audience, very special entertainment—hit numbers from hit musical shows over a 25-year period, performed by the most glittering marquee names in show business, usually the star of the original show. There was some envelope-opening, of course, but the categories were kept to a minimum and so were most of the thank-you speeches.

From David Wayne's opening from "Finian's Rainbow" of 1947, the year the awards started, to Lauren Bacall's windup with "Applause," her 1970 hit, it was a great theatrical experience. Sure, it was too long and short mood-setting prefaces to each number reprising the fads, fancies and political events of the period could have been edited more sharply. The show was live from New York's Palace Theater and television really there were camera and sound goofs. But it was a load of talent with great material and good viewing. Earlier on CBS, Schroeder and Lucy were the stars of the latest Charlie Brown adventure. Lucy suddenly took a fancy to Schroeder, whose attention was completely taken up by his piano and Beethoven. Lucy somehow got Schroeder booked to make his piano debut at a PTA meeting but as part of a rock group. Schroeder in the end decided that he could not sink that low, that a man must stick by his convictions. The cartoons and voices were as usual, but for some reason the half hour lacked the gentle charm characteristic of the series. Maybe Lucy came on a little too strong, even for Lucy.

Hope Runners Do Better at DeQueen

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Winning a trophy and a broken school record highlighted the Leopard Relay at DeQueen Saturday for the Hope High trackmen.

In the finals of the 440 yard relay, Hope pured it on to take the first place trophy in that event with a timing of 45.7 Relay members were Ray Wheelington, Melvin Weston, Johnny Turner, and David Johnson.

Meanwhile, at the broad jump pit, Charles Frazier was busy setting a new school record of 20' 5 1/4" while placing fourth, erasing last year's record by Artis Martin, of 20' 2 1/4".

Perhaps the saddest disappointment Hope had all day came at the finals of the 880 yard relay, when these same four 440 yard relayers, gave it all they had, but although running at 1:35.5, were edged out of another first place trophy by a tenth of a second by Foreman.

In other events, Lynn Norton won the shot put with a throw of 47' 5 1/4", while Carl Bostic placed sixth in the broad jump with a leap of 19' 3 3/4".

Jerry Hamilton finished fifth in his heat of the 440 yard run, while in that same race, James Valentine finished second in his heat and fourth overall, with a clocking of 54.5.

Running strong on the last turn, Kenneth Ellis finished third in the 880 yard run with a time 2:05.6.

Moving to the junior division, Terry Smith finished second with a leap of 18' 4 3/4" in the broad jump for the only field event points.

Both relays, the 440 and 880 yarders, both fared good in the meet. With Harold Collins, Jimmy Flenory, Jimmy Smith, and Larry Johnson running both events, they finished third in the 440 relay and second in the 880 relay.

Johnson also placed fifth in the 100 yard dash and second in the 220 yard dash with a 25.2 run.

In the 440 yard run, Dexter Flenory ran third in his heat and fifth overall with a 58.8 clocking while Shelton Cole was just behind him with a time of 58.9.

Junior High team totals are Broken Bow 63 and five-sixth; Nashville 37; Horatio 33; DeQueen 32 and five-sixth; Hope 16 and one-half; Mineral Springs 13 and five-sixth; Ashdown 13; Murfreesboro 11 and one-half; Mena 6; Dierks 5; Fouke one-half.

Senior High team totals are Mineral Springs 56; Nashville 42; Dierks 32 one-fourth; Murfreesboro 28; Hope 25; DeQueen 21; Foreman 16; Ashdown 10 and one-fourth; Fouke 8 and one-fourth; Mena 2; Horatio 0.

Overall, the Bobcat track team did well in the meet. With a minimum number of runners and hardly any field events entries, these boys represent Hope strongly, as told by the two relays and other events, and they will continue to better their times as the season moves along.

Hope travels to Henderson State College for a meet that starts at six o'clock on Tuesday night.

In other news, the Hope Key Club will sponsor a charity basketball game against the Keel Dirty Dribblers on Friday night. All proceeds will go to the Marshall University Football fund.

Going Tough for Orioles, Redlegs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Any resemblance between the Baltimore Orioles and Cincinnati Reds of today and those of last October's World Series is purely coincidental.

The Orioles' problems are strictly on the field, where they dropped their fifth in a row Sunday, losing to the Atlanta Braves 4-3. Newly acquired Pat Dobson, who is supposed to be the Birds' fourth 20-game winner, bore the brunt of the Braves' attack. He was tagged for 11 hits, including three singles apiece by Mike Lum and Clete Boyer and a double and single by Ralph Garr.

The Reds won their game, edging Pittsburgh 5-4 by scoring a run on three singles in the last of the ninth after Al Oliver's homer tied the score in the top of the inning. The already injury-riddled National League champs lost catcher Johnny Bench for a day or so with a bruised finger when he was struck by a pitch from Bob Moose.

In addition to center fielder Bobb Tolan and shortstop Dave Concepcion, who are on the disabled list, the Reds announced that pitcher Wayne Simpson and possibly left-hander Jim Merritt would remain in Florida for more warm-weather work when the Big Red Machine limps north.

Both had arm trouble late last season and it has continued this spring.

The St. Louis Cardinals' stars were in fine shape, though. Joe Torre belted three home runs and fireballing Bob Gibson hurled five scoreless innings in a 13-2 rout of Minnesota.

The Boston Red Sox, usually death on left-handers at friendly Fenway Park, worked a little of their magic on Detroit southpaw Fred Scherman. George Scott slammed two homers and Reggie Smith and Billy Conigliaro in a 5-3 triumph.

Twelfth-inning doubles by Donn Clendenen and Ken Singleton—the latter a fly ball misplayed by outfielders Bobby Murcer and Danny Cater—accounted for three runs as the New York Mets defeated the New York Yankees 5-2 and squared their spring subway series at one game apiece.

Mike Epstein homered and shortstop Toby Harrah started a triple play and two DPs as the Washington Senators downed Kansas City 4-2.

The Philadelphia Phillies ripped ace reliever Wilbur Wood for four runs in the ninth, including Bobby Pfeil's two-run double, and overtook the Chicago White Sox 7-6.

Cleveland's Sudden Sam McDowell was raked for 10 runs and 10 hits in four innings—including a three-run double by Ernie Banks—in a 15-4 romp for the Chicago Cubs.

On the other hand, there were two shutouts. Juan Marichal and Jerry Johnson combined for a seven-hitter as the San Francisco Giants blanked California 2-0. And Houston's Denny Lemaster and New York's Gary Waslewski yielded one hit apiece as a combined squad of Astros, Yankees and Braves nipped Montreal 1-0.

Veteran Dick Ellsworth pitched seven strong innings in a 7-2 triumph for the Milwaukee Brewers over Japan's Tokyo Lotte Orions. The Los Angeles Dodgers scored a pair of eight-inning runs on Willie Davis' single, a double by Wes Parker and Bill Buckner's single and shaded Houston 3-1. Rookie Dave Robinson singled home the tying and lead runs in the eighth inning and San Diego beat Oakland 6-4.

Russia Can Clinch World Hockey Title

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union can clinch its ninth straight world hockey title today as the United States and West Germany take a breather before a desperate elimination battle.

The unbeaten Russians should take care of Finland and if the off-form Swedes don't beat a revived Czechoslovak squad in the second game its all over.

The Soviet Union has 11 points in six games and the only team which can catch them is Sweden, two points be-

Eastern Fleet Cruises Into Derby Picture

The famed devil's red silks of Calumet Farm might be back in Kentucky come Derby day. If they are, they will be aboard Eastern Fleet.

Eastern Fleet cruised into the Kentucky Derby picture Saturday by winning the $137,800 Florida Derby by 1 1/4 lengths over Peter Kissel's Executioner at Gulfstream Park.

Calumet trainer Reggie Corneil said Eastern Fleet would go to Keeneland for the Blue Grass Stakes, the final major prep for the May 1 Derby, if Mrs. Grace Markey, owner of Calumet, approves.

Calumet, located in Kentucky, has not raced in the state since its Forward Pass finished second to Dancer's Image in the controversial Butozolidin Derby in 1968.

In another stakes for Derby-age colts, John M. Olin's Northfields held off Mrs. Joe W. Brown's List and won the $61,000 Louisiana Derby by a length at the New Orleans Fair Grounds.

Outsider Try Sheep, owned by Middle Ranch Farm, won the $82,000 San Luis Rey Handicap at Santa Anita, Sigmund Sommer's Never Bow took the $59,300 West Chester Stakes at Aqueduct and T.A. and J.E. Grissom's Rio Bravo scored in the $50,000 Oaklawn Handicap at Oaklawn Park in other rich features Saturday.

hnd. But the Swedes were trounced 8-0 in their first clash with the Russians and struggled hard to edge a fighting United States squad 4-3 Sunday night.

After an upset opening win against Czechoslovakia, the Yanks have lost six in a row, including a disastrous 7-2 defeat against lowly rated West Germany which brought charges in the European press that the team is undisciplined and underfed. Some Swiss papers even reported that the U.S. players were under the influence of drink when they lost to Germany a charge denounced by Coach Murray Williamson as "a downright lie."

Cage War Adds Suspense to Pro Draft

NEW YORK (AP)—The pro basketball war and the Spencer Haywood case have thrown added suspense into today's National Basketball Association college draft.

Cleveland won the coin toss last week with Portland for the No. 1 pick, but the question was not so much who the Cavaliers would select, but who is left to be picked after all the behind scenes negotiating by the rival American Basketball Association.

If the Cavaliers still feel they can sign him, All-American Sidney Wicks, a 6-foot-8 forward for NCAA champion UCLA would be the likely top selection.

When the Cavaliers won the toss last Monday, 7-2 Artis Gilmore of Jacksonville appeared to be the No. 1 pick, but the ABA plucked him off the next day for a reported $2 million-plus.

There has been much speculation that the ABA, which holds its draft in January, already has numerous other players either signed, committed or leaning to the league. That speculation has centered around such stars as Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky, Howard Porter of Villanova and Ken Durrett of LaSalle.

With all that in mind, Portland will get second choice and Buffalo, the third expansion club last season, will select third in the telephone draft conducted by Commissioner Walter Kennedy in the NBA offices here.

The Buffalo choice also remained a question mark after the Braves hinted that they might go against an NBA ruling Friday that Spencer Haywood now belonged to the Seattle SuperSonics.

Haywood, signed by Denver of the ABA after his sophomore year in college, jumped Denver for Seattle last January, and the NBA ruled that the Sonics could not have him because his college class does not graduate until June, although he has been a pro two years.

But after a federal judge in Los Angeles ruled against the NBA decision, the NBA allowed Seattle to keep the controversial star forward and fined the club $200,000.

Buffalo, however, asked the judge last week if it could sign Haywood, and the judge refused to say yes or no.

Teams Gearing for Annual Texas Relays

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A classy field is gearing up for the Texas Relays this weekend, including all eight Southwest Conference teams.

Sophomore Dave Roberts of Rice will be one of the top eye-catchers as he tried to continue his pole vaulting efforts above 17 feet.

Roberts rocketed 17 feet 1 1/4 inches in a triangular meet at College Station Saturday for his second 17-foot vault in as many weeks.

Another individual headliner will be Alcorn A&M's Willie McGee, who shares the world 100-yard dash record of 9.1. He'll run one of Alcorn's opening 110-yard sprints in the spring medley college division race.

In the spring medley, there are two legs of 110 yards followed by a quartermiler and anchored by a halfmiler.

Teams competing in the university division medley will be Kansas State, seeking its fourth straight victory in the event, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma State, Drake, Rice, Texas and Texas-El Paso.

SWC track teams were spread over five meets last weekend.

Versatile Rookie Woods was a triple winner in leading the Texas Aggies to victory in a triangular at College Station. The Aggies scored 68 points to 59 for Rice and 42 by ACC.

Woods set an A&M record of 13.8 in the 120 high hurdles and also won the 100 and 220 yards dashes.

Danny Orabram continued to shine in the long jump for Baylor with a leap of 25 feet 11 inches as the Bears won the Preachers' Meet at Waco over SMU and TCU. SMU was second with 42 points followed by TCU with 42.

George Stevens of New Mexico Junior College tossed the javelin 235 feet 4 1/2 inches to

Cleveland Indians American League—East

Ken Harrelson

PROSPECTUS: Ever since the disastrous start of 1969 (the Indians last 15 of their first 16 games and were out of the race in the first week of May), Manager Alvin Dark has changed the entire complexion of the team. "The Indians will go into the 1971 campaign with one of the youngest clubs in baseball, and the force-feeding program of the last two years should start bringing results.

PITCHING—Sam McDowell finally won 20 games last season, added 304 strikeouts in 305 innings and had an ERA of 2.92. Steve Hargan bounced back from arm surgery for 11-3 and Steve Dunning, hustled into a uniform after his graduation from Stanford, was impressive. Two pitchers from Dodgers, Alan Foster, 24, and Ray Lamb, 25, should fit into starting rotation. Rich Hand and Mike Paul also figure. Bullpen sound, led by Dennis Higgins and Phil Hennigan. Rating: B—

CATCHING—Ray Fosse very impressive in first year as regular: He hit .286 with 23 homers and 60 RBIs. Only 23 years old. Rating: A—

INFIELD—With Tony Horton out for season (emotional problems) Ken Harrelson will probably play first. He was out most of last season with broken ankle suffered in spring training. Eddie Leon (24) and Jack Heidemann (22) are impressive double-play combination and Leon, especially, is capable hitter. Graig Nettles (26) is at third. He hit 26 home runs last season. Rating: B

OUTFIELD—Ted Uhlendorf (11 home runs) and Vada Pinson (24 homers and 82 RBIs) may have a rookie in the outfield with them if Horton does not come back. If he does, Harrelson will move to right field. If he doesn't, it'll be either Frank Baker, Ted Ford or Bob Weaver in the third position. Rating: B—

ROOKIES TO WATCH—Catcher Larry Johnson, 21, would get a better look on another club. He can't push Fosse out. Pitchers Ed Farmer, 22, and Bob Kaiser, 22, may be ready.

Predicted Finish: 4th in East

Hog Freshman Outstanding in Relays

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Arkansas freshman Gale Munger of Fredonia, Kan., was named the outstanding athlete in the 20th Arkansas Relays here Saturday.

He was the only individual to win two events.

Munger, 6-1, 240, won the discus with a throw of 159 feet 9 1/4 inches and captured the shotput with a throw of 54 feet 1 1/2 inches.

The University of Missouri set one relay record, and Missouri two-miler Kirk Hogan broke an individual record with a 9:06.1, breaking his own record.

The Bruins' superstar defenseman will be back fulltime for Wednesday night's game in Montreal and it may be some measure of this young man's importance to the National Hockey League's East Division champions to note that Boston lost four straight games when he became a part-timers.

The latest defeat was a 2-1 decision to the Rangers in New York Sunday night. Appearing only on power plays, Orr played just six minutes, 55 seconds and managed just two shots.

The Bruins, who'll be meeting Montreal in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs which begin one week from Wednesday, face the Canadiens twice in their final three games and obviously don't want to look watered down against them.

But watered down is what the Bruins are without Mr. Orr. The Rangers beat them twice over the weekend, playing wide open hockey in a 3-3 victory Saturday night and then playing a tight defensive game for Sunday's victory.

Glen Sather's third-period goal was Sunday's winner—a goal that was hotly disputed by the Bruins, who claimed he had kicked it into the net.

The Rangers, on the other hand, have lost just three games in the last 17 and are playing their best hockey of the season right now. And that's

UCLA Stalls Way to 5th Straight Title

HOUSTON (AP)—UCLA Coach John Wooden had more in mind than slowing down Villanova Saturday when he sent his NCAA champion Bruins into a stall game that produced a fifth consecutive national title.

"I was hoping they wouldn't come out and we would hold the ball all day," Wooden said of the sometimes unpopular freeze tactic that helped the Bruins to a 68-62 victory over Villanova.

While Wooden has long been an apostle of speedup methods in college basketball, he didn't hesitate to go to the slowdown when he needed it to win the Bruins seventh NCAA title in eight years.

SMU Gridders Finally Down to Earth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Methodist finally came down to Earth with its football offense.

After former NCAA passing champion Chuck Hixson bombarded SMU opponents with passes for three seasons, Coach Hayden Fry has gone overland with the wishbone-T offense. At the throttle is the Ponies' versatile former receiver-running back Gary Hammond, who switches his skills to quarterback this spring.

Fry has used Hammond as a stopper in each of the past two seasons to plug up graduation holes and with Hixson graduated this season, quarterback had to be Hammond's next stop.

"I really wouldn't say passing was my strongest point," said Hammond, who was an all-state quarterback for Port Arthur Jefferson High School.

And after a week of work with the new offense, Fry, says the Ponies are further along than he expected.

"This is an intricate offense that they're running," Fry said. "Although we're just running the basics now, we're much further along than I thought we would be."

Texas, Rice, Texas A&M and Texas Christian also joined the Mustangs in spring drills last week. Texas Tech and Baylor join the fun this week. Arkansas waits until April 12.

Freshman Don Burrisk high-lighted Texas' controlled scrimmage with 112 yards on 10 carries, including a touchdown. Longhorn quarterback Eddie Phillips scored on runs of 35 and five yards and threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Rick Davis.

TCU Coach Jim Pittman said his Horned Frogs defense continued to show "vast improvement over last Saturday" and the "pursuit by the defense was 100 per cent better with a lot of gang tackling."

But Pittman didn't like what he saw on offense. "The offense is not coming off the ball well at all," he said. "The backs are not running with authority, especially the fullbacks running out of the T or wishbone."

Tar Heels Easily Win NIT Crown

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was the kind of week that had the fans bemoaning the loss of the cheerleaders. Then came the saviors—St. Bonaventure and Bill Chamberlain.

The 34th annual National Invitational Tournament was being called a collection of losers—teams that failed to make the NCAA national championships.

And for most of the games in Madison Square Garden, the lack of super teams or superstars was evident. The show was stolen by a high-spirited bunch from Hawaii.

The Rainbows, making their debut in post-season play, arrived in the Big Apple with pineapples, leis, orchids, "hot pants" basketball suits and hula-girl cheerleaders that had the fans more interested in the intermissions.

Then Hawaii was eliminated in the quarter-finals and the fans wondered: "What now?" Well, there were the Bonnies,

Sports Awards to Writer, Broadcaster

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — The Sports Writer and the Sports Broadcaster of the Year will be honored Tuesday night.

They will receive plaques at the 12th annual National Sports-casters and Sportswriters Awards program.

Writer candidates are Jim Murray of the Los Angeles Times, Joe Falls of the Detroit Free Press, and syndicated columnist Red Smith of New York.

Broadcaster candidates are Curt Gowdy of NBC, Chris Schenkel of ABC, and Ray Scott of CBS and the Hughes Network.

John Kieran, 78, former sports columnist for the New York Times, will be initiated into the National Sports-casters and Sportswriters Hall of Fame. He is living in Rockport, Mass.

who had to struggle to turn back the Rainbows. Most observers expected them to dispose of Georgia Tech and meet Atlantic Coast Conference power North Carolina in the championship.

It didn't quite work out that way. North Carolina made it to the finale with a 73-67 thumping of Duke but St. Bonaventure wound up on the short end of a 76-71 double-overtime score that sent Georgia Tech into Saturday's title tilt before 18,134 fans.

It didn't appear Tech and North Carolina could match that game's excitement—and they didn't. Chamberlain did it all by himself.

The 6-foot-6 junior who started his basketball training in the streets of New York's Harlem, scampered away with the tourney's Most Valuable Player honors.

The soft-spoken star repeatedly brought the crowd to its feet with twisting, spinning lay-ups, and high, hanging jumpers as he dashed to a personal collegiate high of 34 points and directed a flurry of fast breaks that gave the Tar Heels an easy 84-66 victory.

FORMER MAJOR LEAGUE stars Mickey Mantle (left) Enos Slaughter (center) and Ken Boyer were back out on the spring training fields again this year, but as coaches. Mantle with the New York Yankees and Boyer with the St. Louis Cardinals were working with the teams they played for while the 55-year-old Slaughter was teaching his Duke University charges by example.

Two Arkansans Are Barely in the Money

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two Arkansas golfers, Miller Barber of Texarkana and R.H. Sikes of Springdale, each won $364 in the National Airlines Open golf tournament here Sunday.

Barber finished with a 72-hole total of 291 and Sikes had a 292. Gary Player won the $40,000 first prize with a 274.

Condors Says They Have Signed Porter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Condors of the American Basketball Association said early Monday they have signed 6-foot-8 Villanova star Howard Porter, the Most Valuable Player in the NCAA basketball tournament.

Mark Binstein, operations director of the Condors, said in Miami Beach that details of the signing would be announced here later Monday.

Andretti Has Done It Again in Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Remember the driver who crashed a race car before the 1969 Indianapolis 500 and despite burns, came back to win the big race and go on to the United States driving championship?

The same indomitable Mario Andretti has done it again, capturing the $288,900 Quaker Grand Prix Sunday, only four days after he and his Ferrari hit a wall during practice at the $25.5-million Ontario Motor Speedway.

Andretti, who had to fly back Saturday after competing at an Indy-type race at Phoenix and then qualify at Ontario, won both of the 102.208-mile heats in the grand prix, beating Scotland's Jackie Stewart each time.

The winner averaged 109.400 miles per hour in the opening heat and 109.908 in the second over the 3.914-mile road course with its 20 turns.

"My car was just fabulous," Andretti declared after the race.

"There was no trace that it had been damaged. The Italian Ferrari mechanics worked flat out to get it ready, and I have never driven a car that handled as well."

Andretti, the 31-year-old driving ace from Nazareth, Pa., who stands just 5 feet 5½ inches and weighs 153, won his first grand prix at South Africa earlier this year. He will compete on the European circuit this summer in addition to racing in the United States.

Mario best Stewart by about five car lengths in the first heat, after starting 12th of the 30 starters in his 12-cylinder machine. He was 12.3 seconds ahead of Stewart in the second heat, in which he started first off his victory earlier.

Victory paid $39,400 with the Scotsman getting $25,250.

Stewart drove a Tyrrell-Ford, an eight-cylinder machine, with third place going to New Zealand's veteran Denis Hulme in a McLaren Ford. His countryman, Chris Amon, took fourth in a Matra-Simca, with Tim Schenken of Australia fifth and Jo Siffert of Switzerland sixth, finishing with the right rear wheel of his BRM 153 at a rickish angle.

Monroe Leads Bullets Past Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can't keep a good man down . . . even if you knock him out.

Case in point: Earl Monroe, the Baltimore Bullets' gun-quick guard.

Monroe was knocked cold by an errant elbow in the second quarter but came back after intermission to score 23 of his 29 points as the Bullets pasted Philadelphia 111-103 in the National Basketball Association playoffs Sunday.

"Every time we needed a key shot, he made it," said Baltimore Coach Gene Shue as his Bullets took a 2-1 lead in the Eastern Division semifinals.

In other NBA playoff games Sunday, the New York Knicks trimmed Atlanta 110-95 to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven semifinals and Chicago battered Los Angeles 106-98 and cut the Lakers' lead to 2-1 in their best-of-seven Western Division semis.

The league's other Western semifinal series continues today with San Francisco visiting Milwaukee, which holds a 1-0 lead by virtue of its 107-96 victory Saturday night.

In Saturday's other playoff game, Atlanta bounced New York 113-104.

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — Ron Daniel of the New York Athletic Club won the annual Capt. Ronald Zinn Memorial 10-mile Walking Race on the Asbury Park Boardwalk Sunday in one hour, 17 minutes, 47 seconds.

Indiana Has 2nd Division Title in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another division title has found itself back home again in Indiana.

The Indiana Pacers, who won the East Division last year before going into the American Basketball Association championship, claimed the West Sunday with a 146-126 victory over Denver.

The Pacers' victory, coupled with Utah's 133-120 loss to New York, clinched the title before 10,000 standing-room-only fans at home.

Elsewhere in the ABA Sunday, it was Virginia 141, Texas 131; Floridians 130, Pittsburgh 117 and Carolina 148, Kentucky 142.

In the ABA Saturday night, it was Pittsburgh 128, Utah 120; Virginia 137, Carolina 139; Floridians 118, New York 104 and Denver 126, Texas 118.

The Pacers swept to a 9-0 lead at the start and were never challenged by the Rockets. Bill Killer topped the winners with 24 points. Bob Netlikly had 23 and Freddie Lewis, 21.

Ralph Simpson of Denver was the game's high scorer with 30 points, 13 of them in the final quarter.

Virginia led all the way behind Charlie Scott's 30 points to close out its regular season at home. Jim Eakins pitched in 27 and George Carter, 25 for the Squires, the Eastern Division titlists.

Levern Tart scored 29 points and Gene Moore had 24 for the Chaps.

Mack Calvin scored 37 points and Larry Jones 26 to lead the Floridians, who are riding the crest of a seven-game winning streak. The victory assured the winners fourth place in the East.

John Brisker was high for Pittsburgh with 32 points.

Carolina beat Kentucky despite a 51-point output by rookie flash Dan Issel.

Carolina, powered by Larry Miller's 34 points and George Lehmann's 33, charged away to 15-point leads in the second period only to have Kentucky tie it at 81 in the third period. The Colonels went ahead 114-113 before Miller and Lehmann sparked a Carolina comeback.

Rick Barry poured in 51 points on his 27th birthday as New York completed its regular home season with the victory over Utah. George Stone topped the losers with 24.

Manager Says Oakland Is a Contender

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
MEAS, Ariz. (AP) — "I have a ball club which definitely is a contender," declares the Oakland Athletic's new manager, Dick Williams.

"We know we have talent." Oakland finished second in the American League West a year ago, nine games back of Minnesota. This time around they appear to have two major plusses.

"We'll have Vida Blue for the whole year and Reggie Jackson right from the start," explains Williams.

Blue, a left-handed pitcher, toiled in the minors most of last year but after being called up he pitched a one-hitter his second start and a no-hitter against Minnesota in his fourth assignment.

Jackson, a spring holdout in 1970, fell from 47 homers and a .275 average to 23 and .237. His bat could make a big difference in what appears to be a three-way race between Minnesota and the California Angels in the division.

"If we hold even with the Twins and the Angels and beat the expansion clubs and the White Sox, we can win it," asserts Williams.

One questionmark is pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odom who underwent surgery for removal of a bone chip in his arm. He isn't expected to be ready until mid or late April.

Until that time, the starting rotation is expected to have Blue, Chuck Dobson, 18-15, Rolfe Fingers, 7-9, and Jim Hunter, 18-14.

It could be Diego Segui could join that group or he could be a leader in the bullpen. Williams also looks over a group of youngsters.

The infield appears solid at first, short and third with Don Mincher, Campy Campaneris and Sal Bando. Second base poses a problem since Dick Green batted only .190 a year ago.

Jackson goes infirst right,

Pakistani Rebels Are Holding Out

By MYRON BELKIND
Associated Press Writer
NEW DELHI (AP) — East Pakistani rebels were reported holding out at various points today, but the West Pakistani army appeared to be in control of Dacca, the provincial capital.

The rebel radio claimed that fighting was continuing in Dacca, in the port city of Chittagong and in the towns of Rangpur and Khulna. But the government's Radio Pakistan said the situation in the eastern province was returning to normal, with all government employees returning to work today, banks reopening and the curfew in Dacca lifted from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The rebel and government radios were the only remaining sources of news from the Bengali half of Pakistan since all foreign correspondents were expelled from Dacca over the weekend. But Associated Press correspondent Arnold Zeitlin reported on his arrival in Ceylon Sunday from Dacca that the government troops were in full control of the provincial capital.

Zeitlin said between 5,000 and 7,000 persons were believed killed in fighting Friday and Saturday. Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, the Bengali political leader who had been campaigning to end West Pakistan's control of the eastern province, was reported in army custody. Thousands fled the city, Zeitlin said. Joe Schlesinger, a Canadian Broadcasting Corp. correspondent, also reported that "the army was clearly in control" when he left Dacca early Saturday.

"If there is any challenge to the army's rule," Schlesinger said in Vancouver, "it's probably coming from the small towns in the countryside and it may take years before the Bengali army can even hope to challenge the Pakistani army successfully."

He said East Pakistani support of Sheikh Mujib's Awami League, the province's political party, "is absolutely unbelievable."

He said he did not think the "thirst for Bengali independence or Bengali autonomy" would die out, but "I don't think they have enough arms at the moment to do anything about the army's power."

The 70 million Bengalis of East Pakistan are geographically divided from the 50 million Punjabis and other peoples of West Pakistan by more

Tito Confers With Pope in Italy

By HILMI TOROS
Associated Press Writer
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Wearing a top hat and tails, President Tito of Yugoslavia conferred for more than an hour with Pope Paul VI today. He was the first Communist chief of state to pay an official visit to the Roman Catholic pontiff.

The Pope praised Tito for seeking "peace and international collaboration." He also assured all Communist governments that the Church foresees interference in the affairs of any state.

He hailed the improving relations between the Vatican and Yugoslavia as an example of how the Roman Catholic Church and Communist countries can live peacefully together.

"The Church demands nothing but legitimate liberty to exert its spiritual ministry and offer its loyal services to men—both individual and in community—outside of all other personal interests alien to its religious and moral mission," the Pope declared in a formal address he read to his visitor.

The pontiff spoke in the papal library after his private talk with Tito, carried on with only interpreters present.

Tito spoke without a prepared text, apparently to underscore the friendliness of the meeting, and the Vatican did not release his remarks immediately.

Dressed in white vestments, the Pope shook hands with the 78-year-old Yugoslav leader and his wife, Jovanka, when they arrived at the door of the papal apartment in the Apostolic Palace.

Thousands of police sealed off St. Peter's Square and lined the route of the motorcade. But there were no demonstrators and few spectators to see the Vatican limousines flying the yellow and white pennant of the Holy See alongside the red star of Communist Yugoslavia.

The audience was the final official act of Tito's five-day fence-mending state visit to Italy. The earlier events of Tito's visit symbolized the rapprochement that has developed steadily since the Italian-Yugoslav agreement on Trieste in 1954. Today's audience symbolized the improvement of relations between the Church and the Yugoslav state.

When the Awami League won a majority in the new National Assembly in elections in December, the Bengali nationalists headed by Sheikh Mujib vowed to write a new constitution providing provincial autonomy.

The sheik launched a successful campaign of civil disobedience in Dacca early this month and in effect took over the provincial government. Although martial law had been proclaimed, the army held back while President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan negotiated in Dacca with Mujib and West Pakistan's chief political leader, Zulfikar Ali Bhutto. But the president flew back to Karachi Friday, and military command moved its troops from West Pakistan out of their barracks to smash the nationalist rebellion.

Sheik Mujib's Free Bengal Radio said that the Pakistani navy shelled Chittagong Sunday night, and troops who had arrived by ship from Karachi three days ago finally disembarked but had to fight their way into the city.

Another rebel broadcast said Maj. Zia Khan had been named temporary head of a provisional government of Bangla Desh—the Bengali nation—"under the leadership of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman." The broadcast said Maj. Zia was head of the Liberation Army of the Awami League.

Radio Pakistan announced a martial law order formally banning the league, which President Yahya had outlawed in a broadcast Friday night.

Carbon Monoxide Poisons Air

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—We are members of the sheet metal local and would like to ask some questions. We all work in an enclosed shop where a fork lift causes fumes and smoke comes from the spray and paint booth. These fumes are causing the men to become nauseated, sleepy, have headaches and also eye-burning. The fork lift uses regular gas and is used to unload heavy trucks and for other duties. Can carbon monoxide and paint fumes cause these symptoms? Is 25 per cent carbon monoxide dangerous? And is 50 per cent dangerous in an enclosed building? Can you please tell us what per cent carbon monoxide is dangerous where the ventilation is very poor?

Dear Reader—Carbon monoxide is a dangerous poison. It combines with the iron pigment, hemoglobin, in the red blood cell, and prevents transport of life-giving oxygen to the body. In many respects it has the effects of very high altitude or advanced anemia. In extreme cases, a person dies from lack of oxygen to his brain and other vital tissues. This is how carbon monoxide causes loss of consciousness and death.

A little bit of carbon monoxide in the blood does not cause death and, like losing a little bit of blood or a mild anemia, may cause no symptoms. Or, depriving the body of oxygen, carbon monoxide can cause vomiting, headaches, excessive sweating, dizziness, faintness and eventually collapse.

A common source for carbon monoxide is the gasoline internal combustion engine, which I assume is what you are describing as the fork lift. How dangerous the carbon monoxide is depends on both the size of the engine and the closed space. The important measurement is the actual concentration of carbon monoxide in the air. If the air has 1 per cent carbon monoxide, half of the hemoglobin in the body will be bound within 15 minutes. In less than half an hour it can be fatal. This is far below the figures you have quoted, but they apply to the room air that the men breathe and not the exhaust from the engine.

The only way to check this problem is to measure the carbon monoxide content in the air. If 20 per cent or more of the blood is combined with carbon monoxide, it will usually cause symptoms and 80 per cent is usually fatal.

Incidentally, those men who smoke cigarettes could significantly decrease the amount of carbon monoxide they are getting in their lungs if they stopped smoking. A heavy cigarette smoker has 10 per cent of the hemoglobin in his blood stream combined with carbon monoxide from the cigarette.

Regarding the paint spray, it depends on what is in the paint. Some people are allergic to certain fumes of paint. If aniline dyes are present in any of the work, it can also combine with the hemoglobin in the blood stream and contribute to the problem.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

In the five years prior to passage in 1966 of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act and the Highway Safety Act, highway fatalities increased at an average of 6.9 per cent yearly. Since that time, The World Almanac notes, the increase has averaged only slightly more than 2 per cent.

Jim: "We haven't shown any bad bids or plays lately. We do see them on occasion."

Oswald: "Here's a good one from a team game where the hand is played only twice. The bidding in the box shows what happened at table one. West wanted to double for business but he and his partner were playing the new-fangled negative double, so he passed. East reopened with a takeout double and West converted it to a penalty by passing."

Jim: "Perfect defense would set declarer four tricks. Did it come off?"

Oswald: "Yes. East cashed three hearts while West got rid of two clubs. The ace of clubs and a club ruff came next. A diamond back to the ace allowed West to ruff another club. He cashed his king of diamonds and led another diamond. East ruffed with the eight of spades and South had to use the jack to overruff. This made it possible for West to win two more trump tricks. South was held to just three tricks."

Jim: "South had a reasonable overcall and the defense was brilliant. What happened at the other table?"

Oswald: "South ended up at two spades. He realized the error of his ways when West doubled, but had no place to go. However, the defense wasn't perfect and this South collected four tricks to tie the board at minus 700."

Bittle Tells History of Hope Station

The University of Arkansas was 100 years old last Saturday, so it was most appropriate for Rotarian Cecil Bittle to present a program about the university at the Rotary Club's luncheon meeting on Friday, March 26 at the Town and Country. "The challenges and opportunities which will be presented to the U of A over the next 100 years defy the imagination," David W. Mullins, university president, has said, and the speaker last week briefly reviewed some of the challenges and opportunities which the university has met in the past.

Mr. Bittle has been director of the U of A Southwest Branch Experiment Station in Hope for the past 25 years, and it was with a great deal of pride that he traced the history of the local station and showed a film titled "Agriculture is More Than Farming," which dealt with College of Agriculture at the U of A.

Club President C. R. "Dick" Moore welcomed the members and a number of guests that included a visiting Rotarian, Elwood Noxon of Middletown, N. Y., George Rademacher and Cliff Simmons of Little Rock, Mel Nelson of Magnolia, Judge John L. Wilson, a member of the U of A Board of Trustees, County Agent Calvin Caldwell, and Ned Purtle.

Action Corps No Alternative During War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Blatchford says the new Action Corps will not become an alternative to military service as long as the United States is actively involved in a shooting war in Southeast Asia.

The Peace Corps director, named by President Nixon to head the new volunteer service agency, also said Congress should include the Teacher Corps in the merger. Critics have argued against the Teacher Corps being moved, but Blatchford said it will provide more opportunities for volunteer service.

Nixon gave some details of plans to merge the Peace Corps, Volunteers in Service to America—VISTA—and other federal volunteer programs into one program in a message to Congress last week. He asked $176 million the first year.

Some observers said the merged agency was the first step to providing young people with an alternative to service in the military.

"I don't know how that will phase in, eventually," said Blatchford in an interview on the Action Corps. "It depends a great deal on the winding down of the war in Vietnam, the elimination of the draft two years after the President is committed to doing it."

And when I would hope the action of the Action Corps would be with applications of young men who want to serve at home or abroad or both, before they don't have the draft, before they don't have to go to the military."

Blatchford now, during a shooting war, I don't think there are any other proposals to make to create an alternative said

Individuals Win Land Case Over City

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today a chancery court ruling that certain individuals own land of the city of Fort Smith contended belonged to it.

The decision affirmed a ruling by Chancellor Warren O. Kimbrough in Crawford County. The ruling came in a suit brought by the city to uphold its title to a part of a 40-acre tract of land in Crawford County.

The record showed that on May 18, 1935 the city bought several tracts of land from Andrew France and his wife, Lula, in connection with the creation of Lake Fort Smith and Shepherd Spring Lake as a source of water supply for the city.

By purchase and eminent domain, the city acquired more than 10,500 acres for the entire project, but, as the Supreme noted, the language was vague in some instances in the warranty deed of conveyance.

On April 2, 1956, Lula France, then a widow, conveyed by warrant deed to her son, Charlie France, and his wife, Nellie, some land in the same vicinity, and 10 years later, Charlie France and his wife conveyed small plots to others.

Testimony in the case centered on whether Charlie France and others had openly used the land for the seven-year period provided in law as the basis for determining ownership by "adverse possession."

Several witnesses testified to observing livestock owned by Charlie France being kept on property in the area at dates well prior to seven years before the city filed the suit.

The opinion by Associate Justice J. Fred Jones said there was no evidence in the record that the city ever had its lands surveyed or ever marked its boundary lines prior to filing the suit.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris dissented, saying that the city admittedly purchased land from the parents of Charlie France in 1935 and "now, France and others ... are claiming this same land by adverse possession."

Harris said he believed possession by France and others commenced with permission by the city and that he could not agree to a ruling upholding France's claim of adverse possession.

"This land is an absolute necessity to the city of Fort Smith in protecting its water supply and having purchased the land, it is hardly fair that the city be required to again acquire the same land through eminent domain proceedings," Harris said.

Green Stamp Issue Before High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the scope of the Federal Trade Commission's authority to protect consumers in a dispute involving S&H Green Stamps.

The FTC had sought the hearing through the Justice Department. The appeal challenges a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans that narrows the regulatory powers of the Commission.

Sperry & Hutchinson, manufacturer of Green Stamps and the No. 1 company in the trading stamp business, had been charged by the FTC in 1965 with suppressing free redemption and exchange of trading stamps.

The allegation attacked the Sperry & Hutchinson practice of not permitting holders of S&H stamps to trade them at exchanges for other kinds of stamps or to exchange them for merchandise with retailers who do not deal with the company.

After hearing the dispute the Circuit Court ruled 2 to 1 last September against FTC. Under the 1914 law setting up the FTC, the Circuit Court held, the Commission can move only against practices that violate the spirit or the letter of the antitrust laws.

The ruling noted that in all 43 cases brought by S&H to back its policy the federal and state courts had sustained the company. Since the FTC "has been unable to point to any antitrust law which S&H has violated either in letter or spirit," the Circuit Court said, the complaint could not be enforced.

The appeal by government lawyers to the Supreme Court followed. The hearing granted today will be held sometime next winter.

Would Blame GOPs If Age Not Lowered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Alagood said Saturday that if the Senate fails to ratify a Congressional measure lowering the voting age to 18, the chairman of the Young Republican League of Arkansas could be blamed.

Tom Dillard criticized Friday

the Senate's failure to ratify the amendment and said it was "typical of their antagonist attitude toward Arkansas young people."

Alagood said one of the things questioned by legislators is if young people are responsible enough to vote.

Alagood said if Dillard's intent was to "blow this issue out of the tub at this critical and sensitive period of time, then I congratulate him, for he probably has succeeded."

Sarver Plans No Compromise to Lawmakers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver says that he is not going to compromise with the state legislature and he repeated that he would not resign from his position.

The legislature has opposed that Sarver should be replaced. "If they think that after all

I have been through and the years I have been in prisons—if they think something like this is going to scare me, they are just badly mistaken. I just don't scare off that easily," Sarver said.

The commissioner said the pressure on him to resign only makes him "more stubborn by the minute."

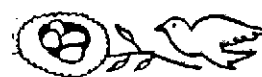

He said that he did not think that the members of the state Correction Board would bow to the will of the legislature, but he said even if they were forced to ask for his resignation, he would refuse. "They are not going to push me out. They are going to have to carry me out feet first or fire me," he said.

Sarver said he had talked to three members of the board and two had said they wanted him to remain on the job.

He said among those he talked to was John Haley, board chairman. Sarver said he was not "too sure" that Haley was behind him.
